I Should Have Done What?!!

Well here we are in June already! We are almost halfway through 2013, and by virtue of that fact you should by now have recorded about 8 or 9 hours of CPD. Now you can't say you were not told, or that you were not aware of the requirement, but don't panic, there is still got six months to get your CPD in, and to find and record what you have already done.

Our Chapter Chairman, Ged Clark, who also does a sterling job as Lecture Secretary does his best to provide an interesting and entertaining speaker to help you achieve your CPD objectives, and can even assist in providing evidence of your attendance in most instances!!

If you have not been down for a while, or are tempted to come down for a first visit, you will be made most welcome. Come and meet with old friends and see what you have been missing. See what there is to learn and let the Merseyside Chapter help you achieve your own CPD targets and objectives.

You may or may not note a slight change in style this month – this month's newsletter has been penned by the Mr Steve Murray FICWCI

Chapter Reps Meeting

We have now received the AGM minutes & the minutes of the Chapter Reps meeting held as part of the Newcastle AGM weekend from HQ and Chapter will review these notes at the next meeting.

Past Chairman's Ties

As you may or may not know, the issue of a Past Chairman's badge is now a thing of the past. Instead, our Institute are issuing a Past Chairman's tie. Any of you who qualify for this privilege and who want the tie, please let me know and I will order them.

The ICWCI LinkedIn group now boasts 132 Members, and is growing steadily. It is another kind of social networking site, and there are some comments, discussions on there but more interestingly, it provides a forum for debate and a point of reference for you to submit questions to the broader Membership.

Please be aware of the nature of social networking sites however, and think about your posts and comments. Do not post anything that you may come to regret later.

Events / Lecture News

Pegler Yorkshire

Bill Lake of Pegler Yorkshire came to the Chapter last month and presented a very interesting seminar on 'push fit' and crimped plumbing fittings. And these were not the plastic push fits that we have seen in the past, no, these were nice shiny brass and other metal fittings!!

This month's lecture is by JJ Joists and will be presented by Mr Lyhnford Chambers.

He will be telling us about Engineered Wood Products and Modern Methods of Construction.
