

The Institute of Clerks of Works and Construction Inspectorate (ICWCI)

Communication – 29 April 2020

ICWCI Presidential Team 2020/21

The Institute of Clerks of Works and Construction Inspectorate's (ICWCI) presidential team for the year ahead is as follows: Mr Dermot Russell FICWCI, President; Mr Mark Read MICWCI President Elect; Mr Gilly Carr FICWCI, Immediate Past President.

Message from the President - Dermot Russell FICWCI, FCIOB:

"The past few weeks have been the strangest of times and indeed for many a difficult and challenging time. In spite of this ongoing virus scenario however, and in the unexpected absence of our annual conference and AGM, I have taken on and commenced my year as President of the Institute of Clerks of Works and Construction Inspectorate. So if I may at this time, take the opportunity to send best wishes for good health and wellbeing to all our members, their families and to the extended construction community for the weeks and months ahead, until we get back to some kind of normality and resume our activities and the contribution you all make to the construction industry.

I am proud and indeed privileged to take on the role of President of the ICWCI. This Institute having been established, in its original form in 1882, has made significant contributions to the enhancement and standards of quality in construction throughout those years and continues to do so through the experience, diligence and dedication of our members.

My message and theme for my presidential year will be twofold. Firstly, 'The Value and Power of the Collective'. The value of sharing our knowledge and experiences and creating a community. Secondly 'What it means to be a Professional in our Industry'. What are the demands and obligations this brings upon us?

I wish to thank all those who put their trust in me to take on this important role and I look forward to meeting and working with you all, within our professional Institute and across the industry, during my term in office.

Finally I wish, on my own behalf and of the Institute and its members to express sincere thanks to our outgoing President Mr Gilly Carr for the time, enthusiasm and dedication he has given to the Presidential role during his term."

Notes:

The Institute of Clerks of Works (ICW) was formed in 1882, Incorporated in 1903 and became the Institute of Clerks of Works and Construction Inspectorate (ICWCI) in 2009; it represents the professional and technical interests of Clerks of Works, Construction Inspectors and those of similar and equivalent duties worldwide.

The Institute of Clerks of Works and Construction Inspectorate (ICWCI) is the professional body that supports quality construction through inspection. As a membership organisation it provide a support network of meeting centres, technical advice, publications and events to help keep its members up to date with the ever changing construction industry.

The Institute has a long established, highly recognised status within the construction industry, and the designations LICWCI, MICWCI and FICWCI are accepted as the benchmark of professional recognition and standing.

Membership of the Institute of Clerks of Works and Construction Inspectorate is available to suitably qualified individuals who are engaged in inspection or superintendence of construction and/or maintenance of the built environment.

Any organisations wishing to invite members of the ICWCI Presidential team to forthcoming functions/events, please do so via email or letter marked for the attention of Rachel Morris, ICWCI, 28 Commerce Road, Lynch Wood, Peterborough PE2 6LR. email: info@icwci.org